Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. W. H. Miley, in Louisville, Mr. Lewis Clifton and Miss Daddie Cossitt were united in marriage, Rev. Miley officiating.

The contracting parties are two of Marion's most popular young people and their marriage was not a surprise to their many friends here, who new that cupid had long ago united their hearts.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. T. H. Cossitt, and she is a charming, as well as beautiful, young lady, with all the accomplishments that make the home bright and happy.

The groom is a member of one of our leading dry goods firms and is a young man of sterling qualities both as a citizen and a business man.

They will spend a week at Dawson, then a week with his father at Dycusburg, and when they return to Marion they will find the home recently purchased by the groom ready for their reception, and they will also find all Marion ready to welcome them back and wish them a joyous voyage through life.

RECITAL.

Miss Kittie Woods and Mrs. Ingram will entertain the people of the city on Tuesday evening at the Opera Hall, with an interesting program of music and readings. The musicals that have been given by Mrs. Ingram have always been enjoyed by large audiences and the excellent abilities of Miss Woods as a reciter and reader are recognized by the people, and on her first appearance in public as a reader and impersonator she should be welcomed by a large audience.

Lecture Course.

The Marion Opera House Co., is making an effort to secure a lecture course of three of the platform kings for the coming season. The men to be secured are Henry Watterson, S. M. Spedon, famous chalk humorist, and Polk Miller, the Southern humorist in song and story. They are three of the most prominent lecturers of the country. Season tickets $1.25 each, or double tickets $2.25 payable Oct. 1st. Every one should secure a ticket at such low rates and easy terms. We are glad to note that the managers are very successful in engaging tickets.

We are indebted to the following persons for subscriptions paid this week: P. B. Croft, Tolu; J. A. Harmon, Graham, Tex.; R. E. Dowell, Kansas; Josh Hamilton, Tolu; Doc Driver, Marion; J. B. Easley, Fords Ferry; G. B. Lamb, Shady Grove.

We hope all persons in arrears with us will call and settle. We need the money and will appreciate the payment. It is a small sum for each individual, but the aggregate is a large sum.

All the young people should do their best towards making the Lecture Course for the coming season a success.

FROM EATING CREAM

Five Persons are Poisoned and Two Came Near Dying.

Last Saturday at noon seven persons ate heartily of ice-cream at the home of Mr. Ross Duvall at Salem, and in a short while thereafter five of them were very sick, and in two hours two of them were in a very dangerous condition.

Those who were made sick were Mr. Ross Duvall and his brother, Ray, Miss Lucile Linley and Messrs. Irvine Crichtow and Ernest Knower.

The first three were very sick, and the Duvall brothers were very dangerous and suffered intensively for several hours, but with the best of medical skill, they are now out of danger. Mr. Crichtow and Mr. Knower were never dangerous-ill. Two other persons ate of the cream but suffered no inconvenience whatever. It is supposed that the poison was generated in the freezing of the cream in that uncountable way that now and then occurs.

The Glorious Fourth.

Fredonia, Ky., July 5.—By invitation your correspondent struck tents and took up the line of march for the residence of Capt. Frank S. Loyd, about one and a half miles north of Fredonia, where he spent a most enjoyable day with the following friends who met in family reunion: Mr. Wm. Loyd and wife, Mrs. Lena Fowler and Miss Ira Phillips, of Marion, Mrs. Emma Morris, of Cairo, Ill., Mrs. Ann Taylor, of Kansas, Miss Vina Harper, H. C. Marlow and wife, and Frank Loyd and wife.

Since the reunion of Joseph and his brethren in the long ago, when the aforesaid brethren had a corner on the grain market and were dealing strong in shorts, there has never been a more enjoyable meeting than a more pleasant gathering. What a grand thing these family reunions are. How pleasant it is to see them all together and hear them talk of the childhood days when all were gathered in the old home with father and mother, now perchance sleeping in the silent church yard. No thought of the battles to be lost or the victories won, but all living in the happy present. In this case everyone was cheerful and happy, enjoying to the fullest each others society, with no regrets for the past, glad for the present and hopeful for the future.

After dinner some of the gentlemen visited the sulphur spring in the neighborhood and had fun in great shape by "huddling together under a little shelter," as a hen "huddles her chickens under her wings," and watching the rain pour down in torrents. However people can stand much on the fourth.

By the way I want to say to any who should be so unfortunate as to read this, that if you should ever get an invitation to participate in a dinner prepared by Mrs. Frank Loyd, don't fail to be there.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Court adjourned Tuesday. W. T. Masoncup vs L. E. Waddell, damage suit, jury returned a verdict giving plaintiff judgment for $200.

The case that probably attracted the most attention at this term of court was that of Fred Kirk and wife against Drs. J. V. Hayden and R. H. Grassham, the well known physicians of Salem. The plaintiffs charged the physicians with malpractice and alleged that Mrs. Kirk was a cripple for life because of their failure to give her proper attention, and suit was filed for damages in the sum of $30,000. After hearing the testimony and the able and exhaustive argument of the counsel, the jury returned a verdict for the defendants.

Dr. J. R. Clark sued the county for $615 for services as health officer during the smallpox epidemic. The jury gave him a judgment for $345. The other case against the county was continued until the next term. According to a current report the jury on first ballot stood as follows: Four for $500; four for $300; one each for $246, $450, $350 and $300.

A. G. Butler vs W. H. Brown, damage suit. Verdict for defendant.

SALEM THE HUB.

SALEM, Ky., July 6, 1900.

EDITOR PRESS:—I am glad to see so many good things said about this and Crittenden county in the various papers.

In natural resources, Livingston county is the richest county in the State of Kentucky. This county borders on the Ohio river, known the world over, as the beautiful, from the mouth of Deer Creek to the city of Paducah, a distance of forty-three miles. The Cumberland river flows through the county for a distance of twenty miles on one side, and on the other side from Grand Rivers to Smithland, a distance of thirty-five miles. She borders on the Tennessee river for about thirty miles. Along the banks of these three rivers, is the richest bottom lands in the world. Just think of it, there is only a very few farms in this county over four miles away from one or the other of the said rivers, and not a single farm in the county over ten miles away from one to the other of said rivers. These three great rivers have made the beautiful city of Paducah; each day the year round they shower the city with blessings, for each river flows to Paducah, carrying on its bosom all manner of produce and wealth. Look at our rich valleys and fine table lands, that produce the finest wheat in the State. See how well our county is drained by Claylick creek, Sandy creek, Bayou creek, Bezi creek and Felps creek. No place on earth can beat us for fine spring water. We have lime stone springs, free stone springs, sulphur springs and many other mineral springs. There can be no better place on the face of the earth to raise stock, than this county. Grass grows without trouble, and with but little expense to the farmer. They are blessed with abundant good timber. We have any kind of rock known to the human family.

God has been bountiful in his blessings to this county, hidden from our eyes, down in the earth, until a few months ago, are the finest, richest and best zinc, spar and lead. Ten different companies are now at work day and night operating these mines. All of these mines are very near Salem.

Mr. Nunn in his article described to some extent the wealth of these mines, but he neglected to show that Salem was the central point. All of the business resulting from the mines necessarily comes to Salem. This is a good place for a first class flour mill. All we need now is a railroad, and the men operating these mines, say we will have it within 12 months.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Elizabeth Francis Butler was born Nov. 25, 1841, near Crayneville, Crittenden county, Ky., and passed into life June 1, 1900, at her home in Salem, Ky. Her death was very unexpected to her family and came as a great shock to her sons and daughters, who were not apprised of any serious illness. Through all of her sufferings and troubles, there was never a murmur or complaint, but faith and patience, as we see, was displayed by Christ himself.

She professed faith in Christ and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Piney Fork in her eighteenth year, and was a member of that church at the time of her death. She was the kindest and most indulgent of neighbors and of mothers, and the large attendance of neighbors and friends to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of our departed is evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

Mrs. Butler was a quiet unostentatious christian woman, a reader of her Bible, and with unswerving faith in Christ as the son of God.

Her influence is not dead, but gone on in the channels that she marked out while living. She is missed from home, it is true, and her place there is vacant, but children weep not for her now, she is in heaven, a life beyond just begun. It is for you now to so live and act, that all may meet her there and be a united home once more.

So let us tread softly, reverently and strew the flowers of love on the grave of this good christian woman, who if every one, for whom she did some loving service were to bring a blossom, she would sleep tonight under a hill of roses.

POINTS ABOUT REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Howl Goes Up Over Liberties Taken with the Fateful Document—Some Things That the People Will Remember—Unhappiness of the Administration.

[Special Correspondence.]

The more the administration clique reflect on the republican national platform the more disgusted they become with their own stupidity. Anxious hours were spent at the white house in preparing a platform which would endorse McKinley's policy and yet placate the rebellious and critical voters.

It appears that the editing and final arrangement of the platform of Philadelphia was then left to ex-Congressman Lemuel Eli Quigg, a faithful henchman of Senator Platt's. It is now alleged by administration representatives that that gentleman took grave liberties with the fateful document, which had been sent over to the convention with the white house O. K. upon it.

Congressman Grosvenor is regarded in congress as the official mouthpiece of the administration. He sends up a howl about the platform that discounts any criticism the democrats have made on the document. Grosvenor insists that the administration forces had prepared a plank endorsing the action of congress in placing Porto Rico outside the constitution and another specifically mentioning the ship subsidy bill favorably.

Of course Quigg denies that he did anything which was not ordered by the committee on resolutions, but the fact remains that the republicans themselves have discovered too late that their platform is altogether too weak and evasive to suit even the McKinley republicans, let alone bring back the anti-McKinley forces into the party fold.

The platform is too long and still it says too little. It is chiefly remarkable for the things it omits to say. The only issues upon which it is at all definite are those which are not at all in question. It devotes about 2,000 words to threshing over dead issues of the past campaign and about 200 words to the live issues of trusts and imperialism.

The trust plank is so carefully worded that it could not possibly offend the most sensitive trust which is expected to contribute to the campaign fund.

It says: "We condemn all conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict business, to create monopolies, limit production or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectively restrain and prevent such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce."

Well, there have been about 250 just such trusts organized since the beginning of McKinley's administration, and they have been doing just the things which this plank mentions, but this republican congress refused to pass the anti-trust bill. The administration will never, under any circumstances, have an opportunity to restrain trusts better than that presented at the recent session of congress, when every branch of the government was under republican control. The fact that it did absolutely nothing to restrain trusts shows where it stands.

Republican Effrontery.

In the face of the unpunished Rathbone and Neely postal scandals in Cuba, the republicans have the effrontery to state in their platform that they favor for public service in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, "those whose fitness has been determined by training and experience." Rathbone, Neely, et al., were lauded as just that kind of material until their rascalties were exposed by a jealous military contingent, which felt it was not getting its share of the spoils in Cuba.

With a fine disregard for the facts, this same platform "commends the republican policy in maintaining the efficiency of the civil service." The republicans seem to think that the public has forgotten that only a year ago the administration took 10,000 places from under civil service and distributed them as party plunder.

On the Philippines the platform leaves the inference very clear that the constitution is not expected to apply to those islands, but that they are to be kept as colonial dependencies. It promises "the largest measure of self-government consistent with their welfare." That is the vague promise which every tyrant has always held out to the people whom it proposed to subjugate, and the American voters have the issue of imperialism clearly before them. McKinley's reelection means the continuation of the senseless war in the Philippines, the subjugation of a people fighting for liberty and the exploitation of the islands for the profit of moneyed interests.

Independence and self-government are promised to Cuba, but not a word as to when the pledge shall be fulfilled. Probably in the next century—sooner, perhaps, if the carpet baggers can steal everything worth having from the island in less time, and no longer need the island itself.

A Slap at Organized Labor.

Considering the fact that congress refused to pass the eight-hour law applying to government contracts and hung up the contract convict labor in the senate, the labor plank in the platform is a direct slap at organized labor. It looks like a notice that the republicans do not desire the industrial vote. The platform "favors" more effective immigration laws, more education for working children, raising the age limit for child labor, protection of free labor against contract convict labor and labor insurance. The latter clause is so socialistic that it would be greeted by the republicans with a howl of derision if it were adopted by a populist convention. The moonshine about child labor is a matter for state and not national action. In relation to immigration and convict labor the working people will ask: "If you favor these things, why didn't your congress enact the necessary laws?" The labor people are very much disappointed over the failure of congress to pass certain measures which were unanimously desired, like the eight-hour bill, and if the platform had omitted any mention of matters industrial it would have given less offense.

The People Will Remember.

There is a very cautious expression in regard to the Boer war. A hope that peace will soon be restored. But the people will remember that the republican congress refused to pass a resolution of sympathy for the Boers.

The intention to pass the ship subsidy grab is reaffirmed. The promise of isthmian canal legislation is given, in the face of the fact that the Nicaraguan canal bill was hung up in the senate because that body would not approve the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

The republicans now realize so clearly the weakness of the platform that they are saying that the speeches of Wolcott and Lodge are the real platform. The administration is not happy. There is gloom about the white house. The shadow of the rough rider has fallen across the portal, and not even Chinese complications afford McKinley distraction from his campaign troubles.

ADOLPH PATTERSON.

IMPERIALIST M'KINLEY.

What the People May Expect If the Hanna Outfit Is Returned to Power.

Those who desire to maintain the government of the United States in the form which has given freedom to its citizens and opportunity to all its people should fight the republican party with unflinching persistency and courage.

McKinley has shown by his acts that he is opposed to the principles upon which the government was founded, and that he favors imperialism, a thing which is a greater menace to this country than was the doctrine of secession.

And that the republican party proposes to support McKinley and his imperialistic ambitions is shown by the platform adopted by the republican national convention at Philadelphia.

In all the turgid rhetoric of that document there can be found no reference to the declaration of independence nor the constitution.

Both of these immortal documents are opposed to imperialism and therefore neither of them could be referred to by the makers of the republican platform, intent on establishing imperialism in the United States.

All the issues which are opposed by the freedom loving people of this country are endorsed. Imperialism, militarism, the trusts and the tariff, to say nothing of the single gold standard, are defended in strong terms or approved by implication.

Assuming to denounce trusts, yet approving commercial combines in the introduction of this resolution, the platform stands as a weak contradiction to the facts.

During McKinley's administration nearly a thousand monopolies have been created, with a combined capital of $5,000,000,000, and not one step has been taken by the republican executive, the republican attorney general or the republican congress to curb this creation of trusts.

Hanna represents the combines, and Hanna contracted the convention, declared the platform and nominated the candidates.

The issue is made up. Do the people want Hanna, McKinley and imperialism, or Bryan and a free government?—Chicago Democrat.

—President McKinley recently nominated for the United States judgeship a man in Buffalo named Hazel, who is said to be conspicuously unfit both by character and attainments for that high office. The nomination is condemned severely by many New York newspapers, republican and independent, as well as democratic. And now arises the oracular Dewey to fulminate against all who criticize this appointment. He declares that they are committing the unpardonable sin of "insulting the president." If the president wants this man Hazel, a notorious henchman of Tom Platt, to be a federal judge nobody must object, nobody can object without being guilty of "insulting the president." The imperialists are consistent even in this assertion of their arrogance.—Atlanta Journal.

—The industrial combinations are making themselves felt everywhere. One mercantile firm after another is forced to the wall. The passing of the small manufacturer and business man is an irreparable loss to the country. His going is simply a mark of the trend of the times. Ultimately, unless conditions change, the great middle class of moderate means—nurtured and cherished in monarchical England—will be swept away in republican America, to be succeeded by the extremely rich and the extremely poor.—Denver Post.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Declaration of Principles Adopted by the Democratic Convention at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—The following is the platform as drawn by the resolutions committee, submitted to the convention and adopted unanimously:

Imperialism.

We, the representatives of the democratic party of the United States assembled in national convention, on the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, reaffirm our faith in that immortal proclamation of the inalienable rights of man and our allegiance to the constitution framed and ratified by the fathers of the republic.

We hold with the United States supreme court that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government, of which the constitution is the form and letter.

We again state that all governments instituted among men derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, and that no government can rightfully exist without the consent of the governed.

We hold that the constitution follows the flag and denounce the doctrine that an executive or congress, deriving their existence and their powers from the constitution, can exercise authority beyond it, or in violation of it.

We assert that no nation can long endure half republic and half empire, and we warn the American people in no uncertain terms that the doctrine of imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home.

Believing in these fundamental principles, we denounce the Porto Rico law, enacted by a republican congress against the protest and opposition of the democratic party, as a bold and open violation of the nation's organic law, and a flagrant breach of the national good faith.

It imposed upon the people of Porto Rico a government without their consent and taxation without representation. It dishonors the American people by dictating a solemn pledge made in their behalf by the commanding general of our army, which the Porto Ricans welcomed as a boon, and which they have sworn to defend.

It is doomed to poverty and distress a people whose helplessness appeals with peculiar force to our justice and magnanimity. In this, the first act of its imperialistic programme, the republican plank to corrupt the United States to a colonial policy, inconsistent with republican institutions and condemned by the supreme court in numerous decisions.

Cuba and the Philippines.

We demand honest fulfillment of our pledge to the Cuban people, that the United States has no disposition or intention to extend its jurisdiction over the island except for its pacification. The war ended two years ago and the republicans have refused to let the island go, and still the administration of the island is withheld from its people while republican carpetbag officials plunder its revenues and exploit the Cuban theory to the disgrace of the American people.

We condemn the Philippine policy of the present administration. It has embroiled the republic in an unnecessary war, sacrificed the lives of thousands of Americans and placed the United States, previously known and applauded throughout the world as the champion of freedom, in the eyes of the world as a nation crushing with military force the efforts of our former allies to achieve liberty and self-government.

The Philippines can not be citizens without endangering our civilization; they can not be subjects without imperiling our form of government, and as we are not convert the Republic into an empire, we favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give to the Philippines. First, a stable form of government; second, independence, and third, protection from outside interference such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and South America.

The greedy commercialism which dictated the Philippine policy of the republican administration attempts to flatter itself with the plea that it will pay, but even this sordid and unworthy plea falls when brought to the test of facts.

The cost of criminal aggression against the Philippines, entailing an annual expense of many millions, has already cost more than any possible profit that can accrue from the entire Philippine trade for years to come. Furthermore, when trade is extended to the expense of liberty, the price is always too high.

Territorial Expansion.

We are not opposed to territorial expansion when it takes in desirable territory that can be erected into states in the Union and whose people are willing and able to become American citizens. We favor trade expansion by peaceful and legitimate means. But we are unalterably opposed to the seizing or purchase of distant islands to be governed outside the constitution, and whose people can never become citizens.

We are in favor of extending the Republic's influence among the nations, but believe that influence should be extended not by force and violence, but through the persuasive power of a high and honorable example.

The Burning Issue.

The importance of other questions now pending before the American people is in no wise diminished, and the democratic party takes no backward step from its position on them; but the burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish war involves the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions.

We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign.

The Monroe Doctrine.

The declaration in the republican platform adopted at the Philadelphia convention, held in June, 1890, that the republican party "steadfastly adheres to the policy announced in the Monroe doctrine," is manifestly insidious and deceptive. This profession is contradicted by the avowed policy of that party in its opposition to the spirit of the Monroe doctrine to acquire and hold sovereignty over large areas of territory and large numbers of people in the eastern hemisphere.

We insist on the strict maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in all its integrity, both in letter and in spirit, and we would prevent the extension of European authority on this continent, and as essential to our security in the future, we declare that no American people shall ever be held by force in unwilling subjection to European authority.

Militarism Opposed.

We oppose militarism. It means conquest abroad and intimidation and oppression at home. It means the strong arm which has been used to force free institutions. It is what millions of our citizens have fled from in Europe. It will impose upon our peace-loving people a large standing army and unnecessary burden of taxation, and a constant menace to their liberties. A small standing army and a well disciplined state militia are sufficient in time of peace.

This republic has no place for a vast military service and conscription. When the nation is in danger the volunteer soldier is his country's best defender. The national reputation of the oppressor and war levies. We oppose the accumulation of a surplus to be squandered in such barefaced fraud upon the taxpayers as the shipping subsidy bill, which, under the false pretense of prospering American shipbuilding, would put unearned millions in the pockets of favorite contributors to the republican campaign fund. We favor the reduction and speedy repeal of the war taxes and a return to the time-honored democratic policy of strict economy in governmental expenditures.

Institutions in Peril.

Believing that our most cherished institutions are in great peril, that the very existence of our constitutional republic is at stake and that the decision now to be made will determine whether or not our children are to enjoy these blessed privileges of free government which have made the United States great, prosperous and honored, we earnestly ask for the foregoing declaration of principles, the hearty support of the liberty-loving American people, regardless of previous party affiliations.

aggregated in a few hands and the republic be destroyed. The dishonest paltering with the trust by the republican party in state and national platforms is conclusive proof of the truth of the charge that trusts are the legitimate product of republican policies, that they are fostered by republican laws, and that they are protected by the republican administration, in return for campaign subscriptions and political support.

National Control.

We pledge the democratic party to an unceasing warfare in nation and city against private monopoly in every form. Existing laws against trusts must be enforced and more stringent ones must be enacted providing for publicity as to the affairs of corporations engaged in interstate commerce, and requiring all corporations to show, before doing business outside of the state of their origin, that they have no water in their stock and that they have not attempted and are not attempting to monopolize any branch of business or the production of any articles of merchandise; and the whole constitutional power of congress over interstate commerce, the mails and all modes of interstate communication shall be exercised by the enactment of comprehensive laws upon the subjects of trust. Tariff laws should be amended by putting the products of trusts upon the free list to prevent monopoly under the plea of protection.

The failure of the present administration, with an absolute control over all the branches of the national government, to enact any legislation designed to prevent or even curtail the absorbing power of trusts and illegal combinations, or to enforce the anti-trust laws upon the statute books, groves the insincerity of the high-sounding phrases of the republican platform.

Corporations should be protected in all their rights and their legitimate interests should be respected; but any attempt by corporations to interfere with the public affairs of the people, or to control the sovereignty which creates them, should be forbidden under such penalties as will make such attempts impossible.

We condemn the Dingley tariff law as a trust-breeding measure skillfully devised to give the few favors which they desire to reserve and to place upon many burdens which they should not bear. We favor such an enlargement of the scope of the interstate commerce law as will enable the commission to protect individuals and communities to discrimination and the public from unjust and unfair transportation rates.

The Financial Plank.

We reaffirm and endorse the principles of the national democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896, and we reiterate the demand of that platform for an American financial system, made by the American people for themselves, which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic price level, and as part of such system, the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation.

National Bank Currency.

We denounce the currency bill enacted at the last session of congress as a step forward in the republican policy which aims to discredit the sovereign right of the national government to issue all money, whether coin or paper, and to bestow upon national banks the power to issue and control the volume of paper money for their own benefit. A permanent currency secured by government bonds must have a permanent debt to rest upon, and if the bank currency is increased with population and business the debt must also increase.

The republican currency scheme is therefore a scheme for fastening upon the nation a perpetual and growing debt for the benefit of the banks. We are opposed to this private corporation paper circulated as money, but without legal tender qualities and demand the retirement of the national bank notes as fast as government paper or silver certificates can be substituted for them.

We favor an amendment to the federal constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and we favor direct legislation wherever practicable.

In Behalf of Labor.

We are opposed to government by injunction; we denounce the blacklist and favor arbitration as a means of settling disputes between corporations and their employees.

In the interest of American labor and the upbuilding of the workingman as a cornerstone of the prosperity of our country, we recommend that congress create a department of labor, in charge of a secretary, with a seat in the cabinet, believing that the elevation of the position of laborer will bring with it increased production and increased prosperity to our country at home and to our commerce abroad.

We are proud of the fidelity of the American soldiers and sailors in all our wars; we favor liberal pensions to them and their dependents, and we reiterate the position taken in the Chicago platform in 1892, that the fact of enlistment and service shall be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment.

The Nicaragua Canal.

We favor the immediate construction, ownership and control of the Nicaraguan canal by the United States and we denounce the insincerity of the plank in the republican national platform for an isthmian canal in the face of the failure of the republican majority to pass the bill pending in congress.

We condemn the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a surrender of American rights and interests, not to be tolerated by the American people.

Territories and Statehood.

We denounce the failure of the republican party to carry out its pledges to grant statehood to the territories of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, and we promise the people of those territories the statehood and home rule during their conditions as territories, and we favor home rule and a territorial form of government for Alaska and Porto Rico.

We favor an intelligent system of improving the arid lands of the west, storing the waters for purposes of irrigation and the holding of such lands for actual settlers.

We favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law and its application to the same classes of all Asiatic races.

Jefferson said: "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none."

We approve this wholesome doctrine, and earnestly protest against the republican departure, which has involved us in so-called world politics, including the diplomacy of Europe and the intrigue and land-grabbing of Asia, and we especially condemn the ill-concealed republican alliance with England, which must mean discrimination against other friendly nations, and which has already stifled the nation's voice, while liberty is being stifled in Africa.

The Boer Republics.

Believing in the principles of self-government and rejecting, as did our forefathers the claim of monarchy, we view with indignation the purpose of England to overwhelm with force the South African republics. Speaking, as we believe, for the entire American nation, except the republican officeholders, and for the free men everywhere, we extend our sympathies to the heroic burghers in their unequal struggle to maintain their liberty and independence.

Lavish Appropriations.

We denounce the lavish appropriations of recent republican congresses, which have kept taxes high and which threaten the perpetuation of the oppressor and war levies. We oppose the accumulation of a surplus to be squandered in such barefaced fraud upon the taxpayers as the shipping subsidy bill, which, under the false pretense of prospering American shipbuilding, would put unearned millions in the pockets of favorite contributors to the republican campaign fund. We favor the reduction and speedy repeal of the war taxes and a return to the time-honored democratic policy of strict economy in governmental expenditures.

Institutions in Peril.

Believing that our most cherished institutions are in great peril, that the very existence of our constitutional republic is at stake and that the decision now to be made will determine whether or not our children are to enjoy these blessed privileges of free government which have made the United States great, prosperous and honored, we earnestly ask for the foregoing declaration of principles, the hearty support of the liberty-loving American people, regardless of previous party affiliations.

FOR MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVER.

The Best Prescription Is Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The Formula Is Plainly Printed on Every Bottle, So That the People May Know Just What They Are Taking.

Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called "Tasteless" chill tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.

NOTE:—The records of the Paris Medicine Co., St. Louis, show that over one and one-half million bottles of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic were sold last year and the sales are continually increasing. The conclusion is inevitable that Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is a prescription for malaria having genuine merit, and any druggist or chemist will tell you so.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

We like 'em.

It could not have been better had we have been there.

There is not straddle in the platform and no turtle meat in the ticket.

Adlai has been over the road before, and ought to make good time this trip.

There was no bolt at Kansas City. The Democratic millenium is at hand.

It begins to look like the man who wins the nomination for governor must first knock the Black out.

The First District Prohibition party convention will convene in Paducah July 18, for "the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress, and for other purposes."

Now, let the State convention come off without a raffle. Let Sunday school methods prevail Saturday and next week, and all will be well.

With one Republican county convention and eleven Democratic precinct conventions next Saturday, the county ought to have a plethora of politics for one day.

The Republican State Convention will be held at Louisville July 17, to nominate a candidate for governor. A special invitation has been extended to the Brown democrats to be present and participate in the ceremonies.

Gov. Beckham has issued a proclamation calling for special elections on August 6, to fill legislative vacancies in the Campbell, Boone, Gallatin-Owen and the Henderson-Union senatorial districts, and the Woodford county representative district.

Henry Watterson is tooting his famous fog-horn every day now, and we confess that it has a musical sound and we hope that the old craft will soon have reefed sail, safely in harbor. She is sure headed for the right place and if the "biller don't bust," she will get there.

On Sunday July 15, a special train will be run from Mayfield to Evansville and return, leaving Mayfield 6:10 a. m. and leaving Evansville returning at 10:30 p. m. Fare for the round trip from Marion $1.00.

Only Thirty and Gray

How is this? Perhaps sleepless nights caused it, or grief, or sickness, or perhaps it was care. No matter what the cause, you cannot wish to look old at thirty.

Gray hair is starved hair. The hair bulbs have been deprived of proper food or proper nerve force.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Increases the circulation in the scalp, gives more power to the nerves, supplies missing elements to the hair bulbs. Used according to directions, gray hair begins to show color in a few days. Soon it has all the softness and richness of youth and the color of early life returns. Would you like our book on the Hair? We will gladly send it to you.

Write us!

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the Vigor, write the doctor about it. He may be able to suggest something of value to you. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Democrat who is not well pleased with the ticket nominated at Kansas City should go over, boots and breeches, to the opposition, and have the backbone and nerve to declare himself a Republican in name, as well as in intent and purposes. Bryan and Stevenson are as able, as clean and as patriotic as any men the party ever honored with the nomination. Their public records are in line with the teachings of Democracy, and in so far as men can, they represent the principles of the party for which they stand. The platform is plain, pointed, an unequivocal on all the questions that are pertinent at this time, and old time Democracy is applied unswervingly to the problems of the day.

In an interview Gen. P. W. Hardin says: "What manly man can afford to give up his sincere convictions as to the policies of government and the principles of his party, and surrender all that he believes to be to the highest interest of his country to a mere local prejudice or personal dislike? Why defeat or destroy the cause of the nation and let our State go down in the wreck either as a rebuke to or a remedy for that which the national Democracy is in no wise responsible? "No, I have faith that our party in this State, irrespective of differences or of prejudices or supposed wrongs or real wrongs will unite under the national banner, elect Bryan and Stevenson and carry the cause of the country and the nation to victory."

The state board of equalization finished its work Saturday and filed the report with Auditor Coulter showing that the total value of property assessed in the State is $774,867,034, which will produce $2,730,622 taxes at .46¢ on the $100, which is the rate this year instead of 52¢ cents, which has been for the past three years. Owing to the failure of county assessors to make assessment, about $12,000,000, worth of stock in national banks escaped taxation this year, the decision of the Supreme Court making it the duty of the owner of the stock to list it for taxation. It is likely that a number of the assessors failed to obey the law. The total assessed value of property this year is slightly larger than last year, but the tax income will be $226,000 less because of the 5 cent reduction in the tax rate.

The Senate now has 12 Republicans, 23 Democrats and 3 vacancies. Four of the Democrats last winter bolted and voted with the Republicans, giving them 16 votes. In filling the vacancies the Republicans are sure to elect the Campbell county senator, giving them 17. The Democrats will have 21 left, but two or three of them are uncertain and it is by no means certain that Senator Carter can hold his seat as President of the Senate. The next Senate may be even closer. We need Beckham to break ties in the Senate.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

There are two men we are waiting to hear from just now. They are G. Steven Cleveland and J. Young Brown. Cleveland might take his eye off the cork long enough to give his tongue an opportunity to tell us what he thinks about it. Brown has a job that won't give him time to talk much for sometimes.

WANT TO CONTINUE.

Caleb Powers Files an Affidavit and Asks for Time to Get Witnesses.

Georgetown, Ky., July 10—The cases against the parties charged with the murder of Gov. Goebel were called for trial yesterday, and the prosecution announced ready and elected to place Caleb Powers on trial first. The defendants asked for time to consult, and this evening filed a lengthy affidavit asking for a continuance, alleging that certain absent witnesses will so testify as to rebut the testimony brought out against Powers at the examining trial. If the commonwealth will admit that these witnesses will so testify, then the trial may proceed. Otherwise a continuance will be insisted on by the defense.

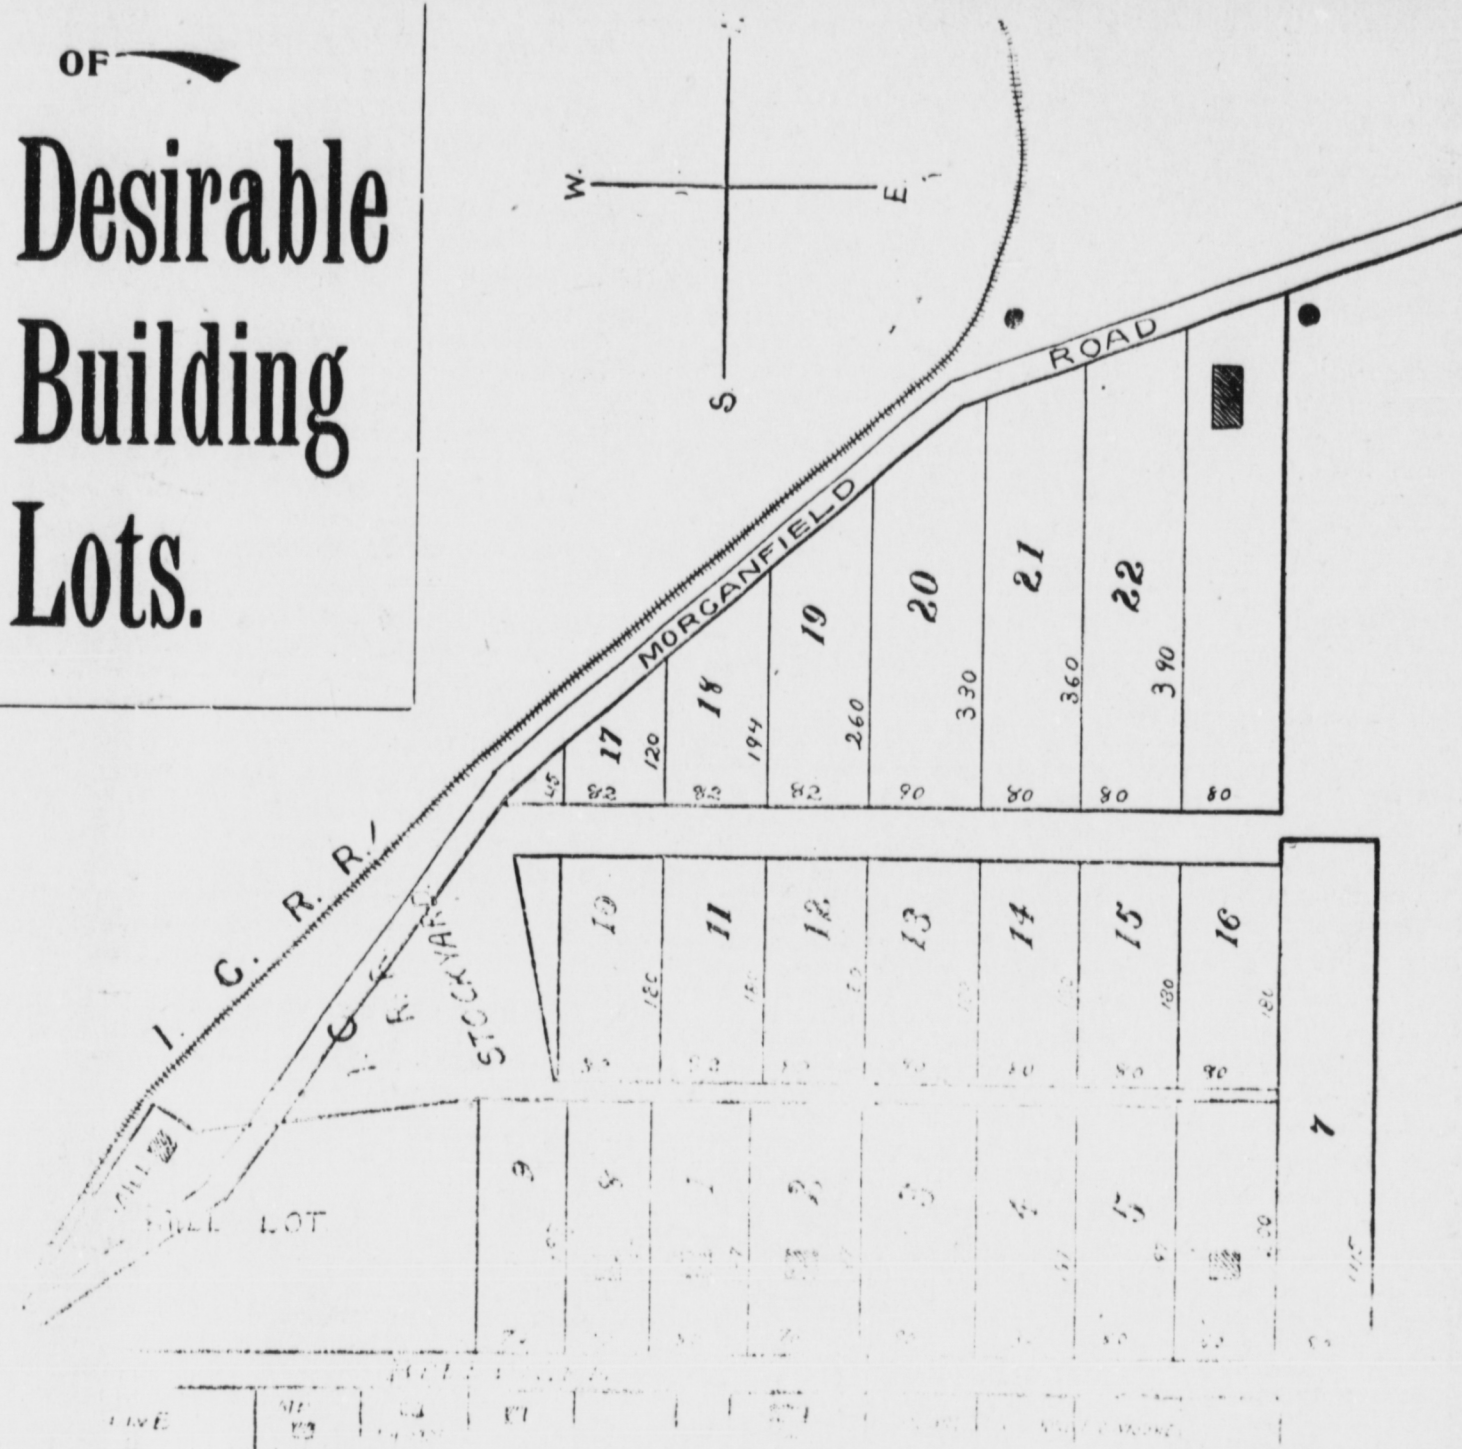

John Hendrick and J. Willard Mitchell have been added to the list of counsel for the prosecution

A GRAND AUCTION SALE

OF —
Desirable
Building
Lots.

AT MARION, KY.

Friday and Saturday, Aug. 10-11.

I will on Friday and Saturday, August 10 and 11, 1900, sell to the highest bidder, 22 large, beautiful town lots in the most popular residence section of the town of Marion. The town is growing this way, it's a healthful location, it is a splendid, progressive neighborhood, and is destined to be the most beautiful portion of our city. These lots must go. No by-bidding. This is your opportunity.

Marion is one of the most thriving towns in Western Kentucky, and no place has had a more substantial growth during the past ten years, and certainly no town has a more promising future. The population has more than doubled, the new buildings—both residences and business houses—are substantial modern structures, the business men are progressive, the citizens entergetic and enterprising, and the improvements constantly going on point to a city of 5,000 or more inhabitants. We have the best school in Western Kentucky, and this is annually bringing people to town; the mineral country around and near town is being developed, and this is bringing in men and capital to swell the volume of business and to augment the forces of growth and development, and everything points to a brighter future still for Marion. We have six churches and the moral status of the place is not excelled anywhere. If you want a pleasant home in a healthy section of the country, among a hospitable enterprising people, where you may have all the advantages of fine schools, live churches, and a constantly increasing business, and where new railroads are already being projected, and new mining industries are springing up, come to Marion.

It Will Pay You to Attend this GREAT AUCTION SALE.

The property to be sold will double in value within three years, and no better investment could be made, even if you do not desire to build. For terms and other information, call on or address.

J. R. CLARK, Marion, Ky.

Three of the lots have handsome cottage residences on them, and they will be in this sale.

Was It a Miracle?

"The marvelous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of Consumption has created intense excitement in Cammack, Ind.," writes Marion Stuart, a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind. She only weighed 90 pounds when her doctor in Yorktown said she must soon die. Then she began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and gained 97 pounds in weight and was completely cured. It has cured thousands of hopeless cases, and is positively guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases. 50¢ and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. H. Orme's drug store.

Sunday many of the residents of this city and neighboring points gathered at our famous summer resort, Crittenden Springs. The guests at the hotel numbered almost one hundred. This is the largest number of guests that have been entertained by Mr. Wilson this season.

Bell Hopkins and Mat Kimbell, colored, were in police court Monday to answer the charge of "drunkenness and disorderly conduct." They were fined the usual sum. This is the first time his honor, Judge Gilbert, has had the softer sex before him upon charges of this nature, but he presided with usual dignity and without a blush.

It was a royal sight to see Ollie James and Bob Dowell shaking hands Monday. They have always been warm friends and each vied with the other in adding to his stature, and when they met and proceed to pull each others arm arm the earth trembled. Ollie weighs anywhere from 265 to 290 while Bob modestly claims only 252 pounds of the composition that goes to make robust manhood.

REASONS FOR HOPE NOW.

Minister Wu's Cablegram From Shen Has Encouraged a Hopeful Feeling.

WU LABORS TO SAVE THE MINISTERS

He Pointed Out the Inevitable Disaster to China that Would Follow the Destruction of the Ministers—Cablegram From Kempf—State Department Satisfied.

Washington, July 10.—The following telegram has been received by Minister Wu from Sheng, director general of the imperial telegraph, at Shanghai, dated Sunday:

"July 3 two legations in Peking still preserved. All ministers safe. Rebellious troops and rioters made attacks, but suffer many losses. Imperial troops are protecting, but meet with difficulty in doing so. It is feared that food and ammunition are exhausted."

Rewards Offered.

Washington, July 10.—Minister Wu has cabled to Sheng, the director general of imperial posts at Shanghai, and to the viceroy at Nanking, a request that they take steps to have it made known in Peking and vicinity that heavy rewards will be paid by the American people for the salvation of the people in the legations.

The minister did not make this representation upon the authority of the United States government, but upon many statements that have been made to him by prominent American citizens. He was approached Sunday by some ladies, friends and relatives of some of the people who were with Minister Conger when the outbreak occurred, beseeching him to offer rewards, which they would pay, to anyone who would help the besieged.

Missions Looted.

Berlin, July 10.—The German consul at Che-Foo cables under July 9 date, that the American mission at Tung-Lu, and the Catholic mission at Ching Chu-Fu have been looted.

Washington, July 10.—Though fearful of giving false encouragement, the state department officials are bound to admit that there is reason for hope now respecting the welfare of the legations at Peking. Minister Wu's cablegram from Sheng, taken in connection with the report of Admiral Bruce from Tien-Tsin, has done much to encourage this hopeful feeling. Mr. Wu brought his telegram to the state department in person, and pointed out to Secretary Hay what he regarded as some significant and gratifying features of his dispatch. Such, for instance, was Sheng's description of the Chinese who were attacking the legations as "Rebellious troops and rioters," and the positive statement that the Chinese government is opposing them.

Wu Realized the Danger.

There is reason to believe that much of the credit for the awakening of the Chinese government to the sense of its responsibility for the safety of the foreign ministers are due to Minister Wu's personal efforts. At least three weeks ago, when it was realized that the ministers were in peril, Minister Wu set about their protection as far as lay in his power. Unable to reach the government at Peking himself directly by the telegraph, he was in constant communication by cable, not only with Sheng at Shanghai, but with the great viceroys of the southern provinces, including Li Hung Chang.

Cabled Earnest Appeals.

He cabled to these officials the most earnest appeals for the exercise of their good offices with the Peking government to secure the safety of the legations. He pointed out the inevitable disaster to China that would follow the destruction of these ministers, and he implored the viceroys to avail themselves of any means in their power to insure the presentation at Peking of his representations. He believes that these representations have reached the imperial government, and that they have at least contributed to the decision of that government to render what protection it can to the foreign ministers.

Prince Ching is a Power.

Mr. Wu says that Prince Ching, who, according to Admiral Bruce, is attacking the Boxers, is not only the head of the tsung-li-yamen, but is also commander of one of the Peking garrisons. There are several garrisons in Peking, each composed of a separate nationality, and Ching commands the Manchurian force. At last advice this force comprised about 10,000 soldiers. They had been drilled in foreign tactics at the military school of the North by instructors who had themselves been taught the art of war by German army officers, and would have undoubtedly prove very effective.

All Principle Lost.

The minister noted the Boxers' movements had degenerated into rioting and looting, all principle having been lost, and so it was reasonable to expect that the strongest and most influential of the Chinese mandarins would find it necessary to combine to crush them, from an instinct of self-preservation, and regardless of their foreign or anti-foreign sentiments.

A Cablegram From Kempf.

A cablegram has been received by the navy department from Admiral Kempf, dated at Taku, probably Saturday. The admiral's communication relates to the number of troops and the character of the force that had been supplied to participate in the campaign against Peking. The foreign admirals at Taku have been consulting on this subject. Admiral Kempf was advised daily by the navy department, at the instance of the president, with an inquiry as to what force was needed in his judgment. His cablegram was received to-day by Secretary Hay and Secretary Long, and it was decided to withhold it from publication, in order to prevent the information from sifting back to the rebellious Chinese.

State Department Satisfied.

The state department, though at a distance from the scene, is satisfied that the admirals at Taku are over-estimating the Chinese opposition, and consequently of the force required by them to march to Peking. While it is impossible to learn all the facts upon which the department bases this opinion, it is patent that it has substantial basis, and it is bringing pressure to bear to cause a forward movement that will undoubtedly soon manifest itself in results at Taku and Tien-Tsin.

John Barrett, ex-United States minister to Siam, who is thoroughly familiar with oriental affairs, spent an hour in conference with Secretary Hay at the state department, discussing the Chinese situation.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Foreign Office Secretary Sees Grounds for Hope in Prince Ching's Movements.

London, July 10.—In the house of commons the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. Broderick, after confirming Japan's agreement to increase its force in China to 20,000 men without delay, and the gallant defence of the legations up to July 3, added: "There are grounds for hoping that Prince Ching, the late head of the tsung-li-yamen, is exercising his influence to protect the legations against Prince Tuan and the Boxers."

"Reports from Tien-Tsin show further fighting may be expected there, but no doubt is expressed that the allied forces will be able to maintain their position. Japanese reinforcements are due at Taku immediately, and Indian troops will begin to arrive by the end of the week."

"Matters are quiet in the Yang-Tse valley, but additional ships are going there, so that we may be prepared to take the necessary course to maintain order."

THE TRANSPORT LOGAN.

Inquiry Made of Admiral Kempf of the Vessel's Whereabouts—Has Ninth Infantry on Board.

Washington, July 10.—Owing to the uncertainty as to the whereabouts of the transport Logan with the Ninth infantry aboard, Secretary Long, at the suggestion of Secretary Root, has sent a cable message to Admiral Kempf, at Taku, asking for definite information on the subject. The Logan left Manila on the 27th of June, and was counted upon to make the run to Taku in seven days. In case expectations were realized she arrived at the Chinese port July 4. Little doubt is entertained that these troops already have arrived at Taku, and it is even believed they have gone up the river in small boats to Tien-Tsin, where they were urgently needed. The failure to receive official notice of their arrival probably is due to the dispatch to that effect by Col. Liscum to Gen. MacArthur at Manila, instead of to the war department. Coming as an independent command, Admiral Kempf may not regard the troops as a proper subject of his report.

THE BATTLESHIP OREGON.

The Vessel Has Arrived at Che-Foo Enroute to the Great Kure Dock in Japan.

Washington, July 10.—The navy department has been informed that the Oregon has arrived at Che-Foo. She will start for Kure, Japan, to dock, July 10 or 12.

The navy department's cablegram was from Capt. Rodgers, of the Nashville, who made a flying trip from his station at Che-Foo out to the scene of the grounding of the Oregon, 35 miles northwest of the port. His dispatch reads as follows:

"Che-Foo, July 9.—Oregon starts for Kure dock, Japan, about 10th or 12th, stopping en route if weather is bad. All well on board Oregon. RODGERS."

The dispatch conveys indirectly the information that wire communication with Che-Foo is again open.

A rough estimate made at the navy department consigns the Oregon to the dry dock three months. The courtesy exhibited in the Japanese government in allowing the Oregon to use this dock, which is owned by the government, is much appreciated by the navy department officials here.

Death of a Philanthropist.

San Francisco, July 10.—Dr. Henry D. Cogswell died last night, aged 80 years. He was the founder of the polytechnic college in this city which bears his name, but will be remembered chiefly by the drinking fountain which he presented to the many cities throughout the Union. He was an ardent prohibitionist, and well known as a philanthropist.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

TRAGEDY OVER A TALE.

Two Kentucky Miners Fight, and Charles Hunter Is Shot to Death By Thomas Gossett.

Corbin, Ky., July 7.—Tale bearing and drink led to a tragedy at a little mining town near Corbin, called Gompers. The victim was Charles Hunter, while his slayer was a relative named Thomas Gossett. Some weeks ago Hunter circulated some ugly tales regarding Gossett's character, which, when the latter found them out, came near culminating in a tragedy, but friends parted them and kept them from each other as long as they could.

Thursday night Hunter went to Gossett's house and called him out. He was in an intoxicated condition. When Gossett came out Hunter began throwing stones at him. Gossett tried to get him to go away, but he would not. Gossett at length became angry and, drawing a revolver, started for Hunter. Hunter turned and fled. Just as he reached the gate he turned back and Gossett fired. Hunter received a mortal wound, and died a few moments later. Gossett is an employee of one of the mining commissaries. His victim was a miner.

Convict Becomes Insane.

Frankfort, Ky., July 7.—Floyd Rice, of Magoffin county, a convict in the state penitentiary here, was adjudged to be of unsound mind by a jury in the Franklin county court. Acting Gov. Carter at once respite him, and he will be taken to the Eastern Insane asylum at Lexington. Rice was sent here about 15 months ago for life for the murder of his brother-in-law.

Monarch Buys a Distillery.

Owensboro, Ky., July 7.—M. V. Monarch, formerly one of the most prominent whisky men in the country, and at one time president of the whisky trust, has purchased the Daviess county distillery, the largest distillery in the county. The daily capacity is 1,200 bushels of grain. The price is not known.

Land and Cattle Sold.

Louisville, Ky., July 7.—S. B. Burdette, of Ft. Worth, Tex., bought from the Louisville Land and Cattle Co. 200,000 acres of land and 15,000 head of cattle in King county, Texas, for $550,000, 80 per cent. of which will be paid in cash.

Charged With Forgery.

Lexington, Ky., July 7.—Clarence and Brooks Latham, of Falconer, Ky., are under arrest, charged with securing goods here by a forged letter of credit.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

Both Cavalry and Infantry Will Be Sent to the Philippines and Probably to China.

Washington, July 7.—Although the war department officials will not admit it, it is practically settled that the 1st regiment of cavalry will be the next regiment sent to the Philippines for the relief of volunteer troops. The regiment is now stationed in the west. The cavalry detachment at Ft. Myer, Va., is also booked for an early departure for the Philippines. It comprises Troops B, G, H and I of the 3d cavalry, together with the regimental band. The other squadrons of this regiment already are in the Philippines.

Other troops supposed to be destined for the Philippines for possible diversion into China are the home battalion of the 2d infantry at Ft. Thomas and Columbus Barracks, the home battalion of the 5th infantry at Ft. Sheridan and the home battalion of the 8th infantry at Ft. Snelling, Minn. Their places will be supplied by the Cuban battalions of the regiments named, the excess being used, so far as possible, supplying the garrisons in New York, Vermont and Georgia, vacated by the prospective departure of the 7th infantry for the Philippines.

SIX PERSONS INJURED.

Roof Over the Covered Walk at the Entrance to the Pittsburgh Union Station Collapsed.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 7.—The roof over the covered walk at the western entrance to the Union station collapsed at 9:45 a. m. Friday and injured six persons. The frame work for a distance of 125 feet fell on the pavement and completely buried the Fort Wayne and Pittsburgh and Birmingham traction tracks.

The accident occurred just as the passengers who had come to the city on the Cincinnati and Cleveland express from the east were leaving the station, and a number of persons had narrow escapes from being buried under the splintered timbers.

THREE LIGHTED MATCH IN OIL

Two Men Were Frightfully Burned at Massillon—A Topsy Turvy Careless Act.

Massillon, O., July 7.—As Charles Kirk, a lamp-lighter, was going his rounds at Canal Fulton, north of here, a tipsy bystander threw a lighted match into an open can of gasoline. An explosion followed, and Kirk and John Hoy, who were near by, were enveloped in flames.

People in the neighborhood rolled both in the dusty road until the fire was extinguished. Both were frightfully burned.

Commandant of Norfolk Navy Yard.

Washington, July 7.—R. Adm. Cotton has been designated commandant of the Norfolk navy yard, vice R. Adm. Barker.

Another Strike at St. Louis. St. Louis, July 9.—The Street Railway Men's union has again declared a strike on the Transit company's lines, alleging that the company has not lived up to its recent agreement.

Y. M. C. A. National Convention. Knoxville, Tenn., July 9.—Negotiations have commenced whereby the next national convention of the Y. M. C. A. may be held in this city. The convention will be held in June, 1902.

Hon. John L. Pennington. Anniston, Ala., July 9.—Hon. John L. Pennington, ex-governor of Alabama, this city, and for many years a prominent republican, died in Oxford. He was 75 years of age.

A Cabinet Meeting. Washington, July 9.—Upon the return of Secretary Long and Attorney-General Griggs to Washington, Secretary Hay availed himself of the opportunity to hold a cabinet meeting, which was discussed, but it was stated afterwards that the meeting was purely advisory, and that nothing important had developed.

First Pack Train for Chinese Service. Washington, July 9.—The departure of the first pack train for Chinese service was reported to the war department in a telegram from Vancouver Barracks, Wash. It says the transport Lenson passed out of Columbia river to sea, carrying 338 horses belonging to the Sixth cavalry, 28 riding horses for packers and 106 pack mules.

An Alarming Fire. Liverpool, July 9.—An alarming fire broke out at the sheds of Elder, Dempster & Co., at the Liverpool docks. Large quantities of palm oil caught fire, and it raged fiercely.

The flames spread to the company's steamers Benguela, Bonny and Oron, which however were towed to places of safety, and the flames on board of them were extinguished.

United Mine Workers. Dittston, Pa., July 9.—Delegates representing 104 local lodges of the United Mine Workers, with a membership of about 16,000, have begun a series of secret sessions here. The chief matter to come up for discussion will be the strikes at present existing in the anthracite district. The dockage question, which has been the cause of considerable trouble in the past, will also be discussed.

Gov. Roosevelt. New York, July 9.—Gov. Roosevelt, who is at Oyster Bay, L. I., refuses to see callers, except such as had appointments to meet him. He devoted a portion of the day to making arrangements for the visit on Thursday of the notification committee of the national republican convention. The governor will start for St. Paul next Sunday, to attend the National League of Republican clubs, July 17 and 18.

Points Toward Repeal of Goebel Law. Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—Gov. Beckham has called special elections in senatorial districts in Boone, Campbell, Henderson and Union and Woodford legislative districts to fill vacancies in the legislature. The elections are to be held on Monday, August 6, next, and the calling of them is believed here to mean that an extra session will be held in September, to consider the repeal of the Goebel election law.

BRYAN AND STEVENSON.

Standard Bearers Chosen by the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City.

CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

William Jennings Bryan Chosen as Presidential Nominee Without a Dissenting Vote—Stevenson, His Running Mate, Nominated on First Ballot and the Convention Adjourned.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—The first day of the Democratic national convention, Wednesday, failed to witness the nomination of Bryan as the presidential candidate, as was desired by some of the party leaders, who wished to add a patriotically sentimental elation to the nomination. The hitch occurred on the silver question, the resolutions committee being deadlocked over the question of submitting a straight-out sixteen to one silver plank, or simply reaffirming the Chicago platform. The convention, therefore, confined itself to routine business, and in the three sessions held proceeded as far as the permanent organization, thus clearing the deck for the reception of the report of the committee on resolutions and the placing in nomination of candidates for president and vice-president.

SENATOR J. K. JONES.
(Chairman of the National Democratic Committee.)
Synopsis of Proceedings.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Jones of the national committee.

Gov. Thomas of Colorado was introduced as temporary chairman. He made a speech, dwelling on the silver issue. The various committees were then named.

Sessions were held in the afternoon and evening. At the latter reports were received from the committees on rules and on permanent organization. Both were adopted.

Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, was presented as permanent chairman. In accepting the honor he made an address, showing sixteen reasons why the republicans should be ousted from control of the national government. He closed with a eulogy of Bryan, which set the convention wild with enthusiasm.

After the demonstration had subsided, the convention adjourned until Thursday forenoon.

A feature of the proceedings was the repeated outbursts of cheers for Hill, of New York, which stopped the convention's business.

SECOND DAY.

Morning Session.

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Convention hall was again besieged by eager and excited thousands, and long before the time sent for opening the second day's proceedings of the convention all of the streets approaching the building were solidly filled with humanity, moving forward to the many entrances.

Convention Called to Order.

At 11 o'clock the slender figure of Chairman Richardson loomed up before the vast assemblage. He swung the gavel lustily, and above the din could be heard his calls for order. Slowly quiet was brought out of the confusion, and the chairman presented Rt. Rev. John J. Glennin for the opening invocation.

With the conclusion of the prayer, Chairman Richardson made an earnest appeal to the delegates and spectators to preserve order, so that the work of the convention might proceed without undue interruption.

The Platform Not Ready.

Mr. Richardson now announced that the platform committee was not ready to report, and pending word from them, he invited to the platform ex-

(Secretary of the Democratic National Committee.)

Gov. Hogg, of Texas, to address the convention. He was greeted enthusiastically, was in good voice, and his words reverberated through the hall.

Calls for Hill.

At the termination of Gov. Hogg's address, Chairman Richardson stepped forward to say a few words to Sergeant-at-Arms Martin, and the crowd took advantage of the opportunity to start the cry of "Hill." It came from all quarters of the galleries, but practically little of it from the delegates. Mingled with the calls were hisses.

Ignoring alike the calls and hisses, Chairman Richardson announced the next speaker, as follows:

"Gentlemen—I have the honor to introduce to you Hon. A. M. Dockery, Missouri's favorite son."

Mr. Dockery spoke for some minutes, and was followed by Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, who apologized for his state giving a majority against Mr. Bryan in 1896, and promised that the state would come again into the democratic column this year.

George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, was recognized, and submitted a resolution proposing:

"That a committee of nine delegates be appointed by the chair for the purpose of conferring with the silver republican and the populist parties now gathered in Kansas City."

Shouts of "No," "No," followed the reading, but the resolution was put to a vote, and amid much confusion on the floor, was declared adopted.

Messrs. Williams, of Illinois; Peckham, of Kentucky, and Miles, of Maryland, addressed the convention.

As the latter concluded, Chairman Richardson announced that he had been informed the platform committee would be ready to report at 3:30. Thereupon a motion was agreed to to adjourn until that hour, and the vast audience filed out of the building amid enthusiastic shouts for the favorite leaders and the enlivening music of the orchestra.

Evening Session.

Kansas City, Mo., July 6.—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, was, last night, unanimously chosen as the democratic candidate for president of the United States on a platform opposing imperialism, militarism and trusts, and specifically declaring for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Imperialism is declared to be the paramount issue.

The first session, beginning at 10 a. m., was entirely fruitless of results, and it was not until late in the afternoon, when the second session had begun, that the platform committee was at last able to report an agreement, which was given unanimous approval.

The reading of the platform was punctuated by repeated outbursts of enthusiasm. The anti-imperialism plank was greeted with a unique demonstration and awe-inspiring enthusiasm.

The vast auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity when the moment arrived for the nomination to be made. Not only were the usual facilities afforded by tickets taxed to their utmost, but the doorkeepers were given liberal instructions under which the aisles, areas and all available spaces were packed to their fullest limit.

When the call of states began, for the purpose of placing candidates in nomination, Alabama yielded its place at the head of the list to Nebraska, and Oldham, of that state, made his way to the platform for the initial speech placing Mr. Bryan in nomination for the presidency. The orator was strong-voiced and entertaining, yet to the waiting delegates and spectators there was but one point to his speech, and that was the stirring peroration, which closed with the name of William Jennings Bryan.

This was the signal for the demonstration of the day, and in a common purpose the great concourse joined in a tribute of enthusiastic devotion to the party leader.

Demonstration for Bryan.

A huge oil portrait of Bryan, measuring 15 feet across, was brought down the main aisle before the delegates. At the same time the standards of the state delegations were torn from their sockets and waved on high, while umbrellas of red, white and blue, silk banners of the several states and many handsome and unique transparencies were borne about the building amid the deafening clamor of 20,000 yelling, gesticulating men and women. All of the intensity of former demonstrations, and much more, was added to this final tribute to the leader.

When the demonstration had spent itself the speeches seconding the nomination of Mr. Bryan were in order. Senator White spoke for California, giving the tribute of the Pacific coast to the Nebraska candidate.

When Colorado was reached that state yielded to David B. Hill, of New York. The audience had anxiously awaited the appearance of the distinguished New Yorker, and as he took the platform he was accorded a splendid reception. The entire audience rose, and cheered wildly, with the single exception of the little group of Tammany leaders, who sat silent throughout the cheers for their New York associate.

Mr. Hill was in fine voice, and his tribute to the Nebraskan touched a sympathetic chord in the hearts of the audience. He pictured Bryan as the champion of the plain people and of the workingman, strong with the masses, with the farmer, and with the artisan.

Hill's Plea for Unity.

When Hill declared with dramatic emphasis that the candidate would have the support of his party—a united party—there was tremendous applause at the suggestion of democratic unity. Aside from the brilliant eulogy of Bryan, the speech of the New York leader was chiefly significant and attractive in its strong plea for unity.

"It is a time for unity, not for division," he exclaimed, to the rapturous approval of the great multitude facing him.

The eloquent Daniel, of Virginia, added his glowing tribute to the candidate, while former Gov. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, spoke for his state and for the east.

Gov. McMillin of Tennessee voiced the wishes of a state which "had furnished three presidents." Hawaii, through its native delegate, John H. Wise, made its first seconding speech in a Democratic national convention.

Finally a sweet-voiced and pleasant-faced woman alternate from Utah seconded the nomination of Mr. Bryan in behalf of the state of Utah.

Unanimous for Bryan.

Then came the voting. State after state recorded its vote in behalf of the Nebraska candidate, and giving him the unanimous vote of all the states until the various demonstrations spent themselves.

until the various demonstrations spent themselves.

Towne Placed in Nomination.

On the call for nominations, Alabama yielded to Minnesota, and the latter state presented its young champion of silver republicanism and democracy—Charles A. Towne. The mention of his name was the signal for a flattering demonstration in his honor, men and women joining in the outburst. Far off in a corner of the auditorium, a young woman could be seen frantically waving in one hand a lithograph of the Minnesotan and in the other the Stars and Stripes. On the floor the Nebraska, Minnesota and and territories. The convention managers had already agreed that this was sufficient work for the day and the vice-presidential nomination was allowed to go over until to-day.

THIRD DAY.

The Final Session.

Kansas City, Mo., July 7.—The democratic ticket was completed yesterday by the nomination of A. E. Stevenson, of Illinois, for vice-president. The nomination was made on the first ballot, state after state joining in a wild scramble to record their support of the winning candidate. It was not accompanied by any such frantic demonstration of approval as had marked the proceedings at previous stages, although the result followed a spirited and at times highly dramatic contest between the advocates of Stevenson, Towne, Hill and lesser candidates.

An Ovation to Hill.

The distinct triumph of the day in the way of a popular ovation was that accorded to Senator Hill, and in its spontaneity and wild enthusiasm it was one of the most notable features the convention has produced. It was accompanied, too, by a remarkable scene, when Hill earnestly protested to his friends against being placed in nomination, and then, finding his protest in vain, when he strode to the platform and in tones which left no doubt of their sincerity, earnestly believed that it did not evoke any widespread enthusiasm among those who were about to do the voting. Gradually other delegations began to rise, some of the New Yorkers getting up, and for a moment it looked as though the convention might be carried off its feet. But against this was heard a counter storm of protestation and discordant hisses.

For ten minutes the demonstration lasted with varying degrees of intensity.

Senator Hill Besieged.

Meantime attention was being directed to an excited group massed in front of the New York section, with Hill as the vortex of a struggling throng of delegates. They pressed forward from all quarters of the hall urging him to permit his name to be placed before the convention. The face of the New Yorker was a study as the demands upon him came from all sides. He sat in the front row of delegates, with ex-Senator Murphy on his right and Judge Van Wyck on his immediate left. A second seat away was Mr. Croker. Hill protested vociferously. Judge Van Wyck said he could not refuse. Murphy and Croker pleaded with him to obey the will of the convention and accept.

Hill Nominated Against His Will.

While the pleadings continued the pulsated through the great structure, Grady stood there proudly waiting for the storm to subside. But as he waited the audience observed a strange pantomime. They saw Hill leave the New York delegation and push through the throng up to the platform. They could see him appeal to Grady to withdraw, while Grady's answer was apparent from the shake of his head, and his advance to the front of the platform to continue his nominating speech.

"I Can Not, I Must Not."

When the demonstration had subsided, Grady completed his speech placing Hill before the convention. But as he stepped from the platform, the man who had just been placed in nomination took his place. The senator looked out sternly, even savagely, on the shouting thousands. When he could be heard, he made due acknowledgments of the honor done him.

"But I can not, I must not, be the nominee of this convention," he declared, with explosive emphasis. He was frequently interrupted with enthusiastic shouts of approval, but when he left the platform the delegates were firmly convinced from his words and manner that he was sincerely desirous of having his name withheld. It is possibly this alone which prevented a nomination by acclamation then and there, for the tempestuous spirit manifested showed that the convention was on the point of being carried off its feet.

Stevenson as Second Choice.

It was soon apparent that with Hill out Stevenson was a strong favorite. State after state seconded his nomination—Georgia, Indiana, Virginia, Iowa, Kentucky, Illinois.

Hill Clung to Hill.

Some of the devoted friends of Hill still maintained their allegiance to him and the delegations of New Jersey, Louisiana and some others seconded his nomination.

Favorite Sons Complimented.

A number of favorite sons also were placed in nomination. Maryland bringing forward Gov. John Walter Smith, Washington naming James Hanilton Lewis, North Carolina nominating Col. Julian Carr, and Ohio presenting the name of A. W. Patrick.

Lewis Withdraws.

It was after two o'clock when the seconding speeches, many of them wear-

HON. ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

isome, were concluded, and the balloting began. As the roll was about to be called Mr. Lewis appeared on the platform, and in a few well-chosen words withdrew from the contest.

Stevenson Had a Strong Lead.

The vote was followed with intense interest, for when Alabama announced 3 for Stevenson and 19 for Hill, it looked as though a close and exciting contest was to occur. But it was soon evident that Stevenson had a strong lead. At the close of the call he had 559½ votes, which, however, was not enough to nominate, the requisite two-thirds being 624. Hill had received 200 votes and Towne 89½. But before the announcement of the result a strong-lunged delegate from Tennessee stood on his chair and announced:

Changed to Stevenson.

"Tennessee changes her 24 votes from Hill to Stevenson."

That started the tide irresistibly toward Stevenson. From every quarter of the hall came demands for recognition. Alabama changed from Carr to Stevenson, California did the same. North Carolina changed from Carr to Stevenson. Even New York, finally and reluctantly announced its change from Hill to Stevenson.

Made It Unanimous.

That ended it. Stevenson's nomination was assured, although for some time longer the various states continued to record their changes from Towne and other candidates to Stevenson. In the end the nomination was made unanimous. The announcement was greeted with enthusiastic approval, and again state standards and banners were borne about the building in tribute to the party nominee.

The ordinary unhealthiness of some parts of Assam is fully detailed in a recent report. In the Surma valley, which is estimated to contain about 2,500,000 people, there were only 75,000 births in 1898, but 94,000 deaths. Also in the Assam valley there were only 71,031 births and 85,900 deaths.

Some one says: "You can not shake the hand of fate." It is quite as impossible to shake fate.

BRYAN AND HIS MATES.

Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Towne Arrive at Lincoln to Attend the Conference.

SHORT SPEECHES TO THEIR FOLLOWERS.

George Fred Williams, Stone of Missouri, "Cyclone" Davis of Texas and Senator Jones Deliver Short Talks—Plans Will Not Be Announced for Several Days.

Lincoln, Neb., July 9.—Adlai E. Stevenson, democratic nominee for the vice-presidency, has arrived here to attend the conference of the democratic leaders. The hour of his arrival was not announced until late last night, and as a consequence not more than a thousand people were gathered at the depot to welcome him. As the train rolled in, W. J. Bryan, and Senator J. K. Jones hurried into the car and warmly greeted Mr. Stevenson. Alighting from the car, Mr. Stevenson shook hands with other members of Mr. Bryan's party, including Charles A. Towne, National Committeeman Campaign of Michigan, Johnson of Kansas, Stone of Missouri, Daniels of North Carolina, and Sergeant-at-Arms John I. Martin. Then arm in arm with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Stevenson walked down the long station platform between two lines of cheering people to the carriages.

The March to the Hotel.

Here Mr. Stevenson was introduced to Gov. Poynter of Nebraska, and chatted with him a moment. The party then entered carriages, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson, Charles A. Towne and Gov. Poynter occupying one carriage. Escorted by two or three brass bands, the Bryan home guards and Bryan continentals, uniformed marching clubs, and several hundred people, the party was driven to the hotel.

Mr. Stevenson Responds.

Two or three thousand people had gathered about the hotel, and as Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson alighted cheers went up in welcome. "Stevenson! Speech! Speech!" shouted the crowd, and Mr. Stevenson, smiling and bowing, mounted the steps leading to the rotunda.

"I can only say to you, fellow-citizens," he said, "that I thank you for this cordial welcome. I am too modest a man to make the first speech when I stand in the presence of the next president. At some future time I will do myself the honor to address the Bryan men—which means the democrats, populists and free silver republican parties, all the elements in opposition to the republican party. I thank you for this honor."

Shook Hands With the People.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson, standing together, then shook hands with several hundred people, who passed in line rapidly before them. But as they turned to go upstairs to where the democratic conference committee was to meet, the crowd shouted for Bryan. Mr. Bryan shook his head, but the crowd insisted. "I am glad so many have turned out on short notice to greet Mr. Stevenson," said Mr. Bryan. "I want him to feel that when he comes to Nebraska he comes among friends, and when he goes back to Illinois to help up carry Illinois, I want him to tell them there is no doubt of Nebraska."

Said They Shouted for Principles.

The shouts went up for Towne. Mr. Towne was not present and ex-Gov. Stone, of Missouri, spoke briefly. When he concluded, however, the shouting for Towne was renewed, and finally Mr. Towne appeared.

"It is a great pleasure for me to receive this welcome," said Mr. Towne, "but I am perfectly well aware that it is because of the principles I represent, and that you all believe in. There never was a period in the history of our country when such a crisis was impending as the present time. And I propose from now on to give all the power I possess to the advocacy of the principles our grand leaders represent."

Conference Called.

George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, was then introduced by Mr. Bryan, and spoke briefly. "Cyclone" Davis, of Texas, followed Mr. Williams, and finally, in response to repeated calls, Senator Jones came out of the conference room and addressed the crowd.

This finished the speech making, and shortly afterward the members of the conference committee, with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Towne, went into a conference. Among the subjects to be discussed by the democratic leaders, besides Mr. Towne's position on the vice-presidency, are the establishment of national headquarters, the appointment of the campaign committee, and, in general, the plan of the campaign, including the work to be done by Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson. Senator Jones said that the general plans would not be announced for several days.

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy. A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lambert, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."
